The chapter’s Fundraising Program is one of the most successful in the nation. It is centered around the annual auction, dinner and gala event, which has been a staple of the chapter’s fundraising efforts for many years. The event is hosted at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., and features live music, dance performances, and special guest appearances.

The auction features a wide variety of items, including artwork, luxury vacations, and exclusive experiences. The dinner portion of the event is a sit-down, four-course meal, and the gala includes a live auction and various other fundraising activities. The event is attended by many prominent figures in the arts and entertainment industry, as well as local leaders and philanthropists.

The chapter’s Board of Directors plays a crucial role in the success of the auction, dinner, and gala event. The board is responsible for overseeing the event’s planning, execution, and fundraising efforts. The board members are dedicated to ensuring that the event is a success and that the chapter’s goals are met.

The chapter’s Fundraising Program not only raises significant funds for the chapter’s operations and programs, but it also helps to build the chapter’s profile and reputation. The annual auction, dinner, and gala event is a major event in the chapter’s calendar, and it attracts a large and diverse audience.

The chapter’s Fundraising Program is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the chapter’s Board of Directors and staff. Their efforts ensure that the chapter continues to thrive and achieve its goals.
